INTRODUCTION

The NEW ENGLAND
JOURNAL of MEDICINE

The New England Journal of Medicine

The New England Journal of Medicine (NEJM) is a publication of NEJM Group, a division of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and publishes 48 weekly issues. It has a nationwide circulation of 113,076* to physicians and health professionals.

NEJM reaches an engaged, informed, and loyal audience of physicians both in training and in practice. According to the Institute for Scientific Research, NEJM is the most cited medical journal in the world.

For physician recruiters, this translates into more quality responses. During a period of physician shortages, the ability to reach a loyal and active physician audience is a real bonus. As a result of the publication's reach and its unique content and reputation, NEJM publishes more physician recruitment classified ads than any other U.S. medical publication.

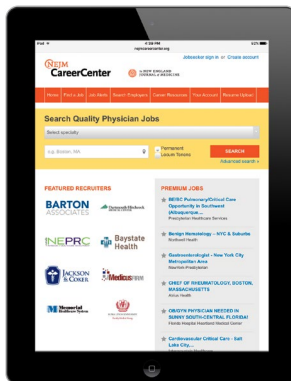

NEJM CareerCenter

NEJM CareerCenter

NEJM CareerCenter (NEJMCareerCenter.org) is the online recruiting service from NEJM Group, a division of the Massachusetts Medical Society. It is a recruitment site for physicians that offers quality jobs and original physician career-related content. For employers and recruiters, it offers application tracking and profile searching.

NEJM CareerCenter leverages the breadth of the NEJM Group job network to extend job posting reach to key audiences with both broad and targeted specialty focus. This mix of both active and passive candidates means advertisers get unparalleled exposure to the physician universe.

The combination of the New England Journal of Medicine and NEJM CareerCenter is a powerful recruiting strategy for physician recruiters who are seeking the broadest and best audience for their marketing message. Cover Tips and Outserts

To leverage the audience, reach, and uniqueness of a career guide, we are now offering two special add-on components to give employers a high-impact message to a valuable candidate audience.

Cover Tip: Gain even more exposure for your brand with a full-color cover tip. This tactic puts your brand front and center on the highly visible cover of these career guides.

Outsert: Have more to say? "Stand out" from the career guide with a full-color single-page or multi-page outsert. This strategy allows for enriched brand content and high visibility within the back outside of the polybagged career guide.

Display Advertising

Recruitment advertisers have the option of utilizing the display advertising format to differentiate their job offers, promote their organizations, and draw attention with eye-catching graphic elements. A wide range of display ad sizes allows advertisers to include multiple specialties in the same advertisement. NEJM offers fee-based typesetting services for display advertisers who need help creating their ads (see page 7 for typesetting fees and rates). Display recruitment ads appear in a section that immediately follows line recruitment ads. Recruitment display ads are required to have a border around them and may include logos, artwork, and even color. For a fee of $240, display ads are included on the NEJM CareerCenter website and are viewable by jobseekers for a minimum of 21 days.

Recruitment Newsletter

Recruiting Physicians Today (RPT), published by the Classified Advertising department, is a free bimonthly newsletter offered to NEJM's classified advertisers. Each issue features articles that provide timely information and practical tips on topics such as strategies for physician retention, recruiting physicians in times of a shortage, and updates on medical school enrollment.

To subscribe to the e-newsletter, contact us at ads@nejmcareercenter.org.

RPT Sponsorship

If you're trying to reach a targeted audience for business development purposes, consider sponsoring an issue of the Recruiting Physicians Today newsletter. Sponsors receive extensive promotion in both the printed direct mail and HTML email versions of the newsletter, which currently reach approximately 10,000 recruiters each issue. For more information, contact NEJM at ads@nejmcareercenter.org.

With a modern and intelligent look and feel, it is optimized for today's use of a variety of devices with larger text, buttons, and streamlined access to content.

Physicians can also access our nationwide database with our free iPhone app. Users can easily search, view, save, tweet, email, and apply for jobs directly from their phone.

No matter where a candidate is or what device they're using, they'll be able to apply to advertiser jobs in a simple and streamlined manner.

Locum Tenens Job Postings — Flexible and Easy

Whether you're looking to hire a locum tenens physician for one week, one month, one year, or even longer, NEJM CareerCenter (NEJMCareerCenter.org) is where physicians find jobs. Physicians can search for both locum tenens and permanent jobs and apply using CVs and cover letters that will be emailed directly to you.

Banner Advertising Programs

Banner advertising opportunities are available for advertisers on NEJM CareerCenter as well as NEJM.org in share-of-voice and CPM models respectively. When you advertise with NEJM, you will reach an audience of top-quality jobseekers and associate your organization with a trusted source of job leads.

Weekend Briefing Sponsorship

Sponsor a weekly email that is designed to deliver today's physician with quick-hitting, short-form articles, visual learning, and trending content. Reach nearly 500,000 U.S. physicians via 100% SOV banner ad above the NEJM masthead and two "Featured Job of the Week" listings within the bottom portion of the email.

Resident Briefing Sponsorship

Monthly sponsorship of an email that is targeted specifically to residents and fellows — one they opt to receive. The content of the e-newsletter focuses on learning opportunities — ideal for residents, chief residents, and fellows in training, many of whom are active jobseekers, as well.

Sponsors receive two valuable messaging opportunities:

- A banner ad above the NEJM masthead
- Two "Featured Job of the Week" listings on the bottom of the email

Job Alert Sponsorship

Physicians registered for Job Alerts receive email messages notifying them of practice opportunities that match their job requirements, including preference of specialty and geographic region. Users of the iPhone app receive real-time push notifications for new jobs that match saved search parameters. Target active jobseekers who have requested job opportunities via email with your recruitment message via banner ad sponsorship.

Employer Tracking

When you place your job postings on NEJM CareerCenter, applicants can be tracked using the NEJM CareerCenter platform. Speed of response and easy-to-use Web interfaces are key features of the service.

Sponsored Content

Share an enriched story of your employer value proposition via a sponsored article on NEJM CareerCenter. Sponsored Content runs alongside organic career-focused content on the website and allows candidates to more deeply connect with your employer branding and understand the unique DNA of your company. Sponsors receive exposure on various pages of NEJM CareerCenter within a monthly Career Resources email and, in some instances, through banner ad exposure. This is a measurable tactic that ties in well with job posting packages and scrapes to encompass a complete candidate journey.

Specialty-Targeted Emails

NEJM CareerCenter has a variety of targeted email sponsorships available in select specialties. Sponsor NEJM Group clinical content to reach qualified users who have opted-in to receive NEJM emails. Build your brand through association with the most trusted name in medicine.

For more information and rates for any of these programs, contact the classified advertising department at (800) 635-6991 or ads@nejmcareercenter.org.
